

A BILL

to establish the period of validity of a passport, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the validity of ~~a~~ passports ~~are~~ ~~is~~ limited to a period of five years from the date of issue and may be renewed under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of State for an additional period not to exceed five years, but the final date of expiration shall not be more than ten years from the date of issue. The Secretary of State may limit the validity of a passport to a period less than five years from the date of issue and the renewal of a passport to a period less than five years.

SEC. 2. Passports outstanding as of the effective date of this Act shall continue to be governed by the laws under which they were issued with respect to the original period of validity and, if they have been renewed as of the effective date of this Act, with respect to the period of renewal. Passports that have not been renewed as of the effective date of this Act may be renewed under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of State for a period not to exceed five years, but the final date of expiration shall not be more than eight years from the date of issue.

SEC. 3. Section 1 of the Act of June 4, 1920 (41 Stat. 750), as amended (22 U.S.C. 214), is amended to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. The Secretary of State is authorized to prescribe from time to time the fees to be collected for executing each application for a passport and for each passport issued or renewed and such fees shall be collected and paid into the Treasury of the United States, except that the Secretary of State may authorize officials

officials of the several States to collect and retain fees for executing an application for a passport. The Secretary of State is authorized to prescribe those classes of persons from whom no fee shall be collected for applications for passports or for the issuance or renewal of passports."

SEC. 4. The Immigration and Nationality Act of June 27, 1952 (66 Stat. 163), as amended (8 U.S.C. 1101 et seq.), is hereby amended as follows:

(a) The Table of Contents, Title 1, Section 104 is amended by striking out "Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs" and inserting in lieu thereof "Bureau of Consular Affairs".

(b) Section 101(a)(1), the heading of section 104, section 104(a), (b), and (d) are amended by striking out "Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs" wherever it appears therein and inserting in lieu thereof "Bureau of Consular Affairs".

(c) The first sentence of section 104(b) is amended by striking out the clause in parenthesis and inserting in lieu thereof "(with such title, including that of Assistant Secretary, as the Secretary of State shall determine)".

SEC. 5. All laws of the United States which refer to the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs shall hereafter be deemed to refer to such Bureau by the name of "Bureau of Consular Affairs".

SEC. 6. Sections 1 through 4 of this Act shall take effect on the tenth day following the date of its enactment.

SEC. 7. Section 2 of the Act of July 3, 1926 (44 Stat. 887), as amended (22 U.S.C. 217(a)), is repealed.
